Laptop Proposal

The client that I'm proposing a laptop to wants a computer that gives him/her room to creativity in editing videos on Youtube. This means that it's needs to be compatible with the editing software FCP 6. To start that means, the best choice for this client is a windows desktop computer. That is why my recommendation is the Apple 21.5" iMac 3.0 GHz Quad-Core Intel i5 Desktop Computer. It comes at a reasonable price of $1,244 which means that it that it comes with quality but at the same time doesn't break the bank. There are 8 GB of memory but can be upgraded up to 16 GB if needed. The graphics on this computer are stunning. With a 4k retina display, it will be such a pleasure to use Adobe Photoshop to edit photos or create graphic designs on Illustrate on this things. It comes with one 1 terabyte hard drive which is currently the maximum capacity of hard drives. The store I recommend getting it at is Abt.com, an appliance and Electronics store that was founded in 1936. Since it specializes in mostly in electronics and appliances, there is a wider variety of desktop computers to pick out to choose for a any specific need one might have.
